

Living in Michigan: By Erica Jermanus

I am writing this short book for those who desire to move to Michigan or who feel led to move to Michigan. Maybe the Holy Spirit has put an unctioining in your spirit to move to Michigan. He may be showing you different signs that it is time to move to Michigan. So, you may not know if it is the state to move to. So, in this book, I am going to be sharing what I have learned from living in Michigan.

First, I want to say that Michigan is a beautiful state to live in because you can experience all four seasons. The four seasons are summer, fall, winter, and spring. In Michigan, you experience both cold and hot weather. The nicest and most comfortable months are in the fall and spring. Michigan is known for its five great lakes. The four great lakes include Lake Superior, Lake Huron, Lake Erie, and Lake Michigan. I am not sure that I have visited all four great lakes throughout my lifetime. But they are a sight to see if you do visit them.

The state of Michigan is known for its parks and recreation. There are a lot of parks and recreation in Michigan that you can go to. Some areas require you to have a pass or know someone who has a pass to get into the parks. Michigan is known for some amusement parks and attractions, such as Michigan Adventure and CJ Barrymores, and Frankenmooth. These attractions I have enjoyed going to when I was younger. There are also art museums in Detroit that you can visit, such as The Detroit Institute of Arts and Motown Museum and Black History Museum. Michigan is also known for its movie theaters. But if you see a movie, I would recommend that you see a Christian one or a PG one.

Michigan is also known for certain foods, such as Macknaw island fudge, pastries, Detroit-style pizza, and coney dogs. I am not sure that I have had some of these foods yet in popular locations. Michigan is also a leading producer of blueberries, cherries, and apples. Michigan is known for its cider mills and orchards. There are cider mills, such as Blake's Cider Mill, and Yates Cider Mill. You can go to these in the summer and fall months to get apple cider, donuts, apples, pumpkins, or berries. They also have other goods there in the store that are homemade and natural.

Michigan is known for its automotive industry. Detroit is known for major manufacturers such as General Motors, Ford, and Stellantis. So, if you are interested in buying a new vehicle or getting a good-paying job in the auto industry, I would recommend Detroit, Michigan. Michigan is known for its outdoors and nature. There is a lot to do outdoors, such as fishing, boating, biking, walking, and enjoying scenic views. This state is known for its lakes, parks, beaches, and forests. The Upper Peninsula is known for its forests and natural beauty. When you are up north in the fall months, the forestry is beautiful to see the different colored leaves changing.

Also, in Michigan, you can experience the northern lights in the sky up north during the year. You can also experience fireflies and different bugs and animals in Michigan in the warmer months. Michigan is also known for its deer in the northern areas of Michigan where there is more forestry. In November, men go hunting for deer, rabbits, and fish if they have a license. The areas to hunt are where there are wooded areas, which are up north or in the country. There are also camping grounds in Michigan if you have a camper. You can park your camper at the camping ground and spend time outside your camper with family, friends, and Jesus Christ.

In addition, Michigan is known for its educational opportunities, like the University of Michigan and Michigan State University, and there are other colleges you can go to in Michigan if the Lord is leading you to go back to school. You can apply for loans, grants, and scholarships to go back to school as well. Michigan is known for its sports arenas, such as Ford Field, where there is football playing and Tiger Stadium, where there is baseball. The other sport is hockey at Little Caesars arena. Michigan is also known for certain churches if you are looking for a church that preaches sound doctrine and is not false. Ask the Lord to lead and guide you to the right church in Michigan if He is leading you to. He may even lead you to a church in another state while you are living in Michigan, or He may lead you to a church in Michigan.

From personal experience, I would recommend moving to Michigan because it is a beautiful state and there is much to do in Michigan depending on where you live. If you live in Michigan, you can either live in the city or in the country. In the country, it is quieter away from all the traffic and busyness. It is also scenic to live in the country in Michigan surrounded by God's nature and creation. Some people have homes in Michigan and in warmer states in the winter because they may not enjoy the colder months in Michigan. So, in the warmer months, people go to Florida or another state that is warmer in the winter.
